GENERAL POLYMERS THERMOPLASTIC MATERIALS EXPANDS INTO THE NORTHEAST US REGION

Driven by customer demand, General Polymers Thermoplastic Materials expands coverage to New Jersey and New York

CLARKSTON, MI (March 15, 2017) – Focused on providing quick product recommendation, pricing, availability and high levels of personalized customer service, General Polymers Thermoplastic Materials LLC announces their expansion into the Mid-Atlantic/ Northeast US corridor with sales coverage and warehouse locations in Rochester, NY and Bayonne, NJ.

The introduction of General Polymers to the North American marketplace has been well received. Plastic processors have been looking for a “back to basics” approach to resin distribution. “With the exposure and growth of our business, we have been driven to add additional coverage areas to meet customer demands from the Northeast United States.”, says Gregory Boston, Co-Founder.

“Our regional expansion allows us to better meet the needs and requirements of the processing industry by providing additional warehousing closer to our growing customer base.”, says Michael Kirtley, Co-Founder. “Our experienced sales professionals will be able to better assist our customers in this region providing support tailored to their needs.”

General Polymers Thermoplastic Materials LLC of Clarkston, MI (Detroit metropolitan area) is the creation of Gregory Boston (former executive of General Polymers-Ashland Distribution, EMS-Grivory, & Asahi Kasei) and Michael Kirtley (President of Spartan Polymers & formerly of Channel Prime Alliance, Ostermann, & Delta Polymers). With rapidly expanding coverage, General Polymers is one of the fastest growing new distributors in North America.
